

Further Development in Speckled Wood at Church Street

There is a further opportunity to comment on the Planning Application HS/DS/17/00194- period Wed 15 Mar 2017 - Wed 10 May 2017 All objections should be in by 5th May 2017.

The decision on the balancing of all the material in this application is an easy one. The planning application in this matter is flawed. The reserved matters application does not meet the legislation under the Government's Planning Portal Guidance in regard to the reserve matter application being in line with the outline approval. There has been unprecedented public concern about this land and the underlying badger sett which it would be unlawful to interfere with. It is also clear from the Friends of Speckled Wood Management Trust websites that the underpinning Inspectors report after the Main Modifications consultation is missing. It also appears that the consultation figures on a Freedom of Information Request by FOSWMT have shown that this application site was removed from the consultation responses by an individual in the Council to enable this land to be built on for profit against the public's wishes some 7,000 objections in total.

FOSWMT believes that this is just a start of the development plans for Speckled Wood. Councillor Chowney, The leader of the Council has a multiple hat role as the leader of the council, the leader of the Planning Department and Forward Planning Office via the Planning Inspectorate in his statements in the Public Examination of the Councils Development Plan. His mandate last year was clear stating he was saving Speckled Wood. Why is he then not exercising his veto and stopping this when his election manifesto was clear when he said he had saved Speckled Wood?
